

Waste management

Trexee is a product suitable for every company that within the scope of its business lends or borrows containers, or manage garbage trucks.

What do waste management companies need to know?

- The exact position of all their assets (containers, trucks, etc.)
- Whether the container was delivered to the right place
- The optimal route for container delivery and picking up
- Complete overview of the company's property
- Impact analysis – proper handling
- Maintenance overview
- Whether the container has always been in a contractually agreed location

What do waste management companies appreciate the most?

- Portable devices with extreme battery life with possibility of hidden installation
- The ability to monitor containers, trucks, and employees without the need for complex installation.
- The ability to check delivery of container to the customer
- Dispatching system for drivers with route optimization
- Remote configuration of sensors settings

What other benefits Trexee brings?

- Prevention of the misuse of company property by employees
- Protection against theft of containers
- Unlimited Logbook