

Leasing companies

Trexee is a product suitable for every company that within the scope of its business lends or borrows something.

Trexee offers leasing companies a huge advantage in its flexibility, because it does not require installation directly into a vehicle's electrical cabinet. For other solutions, this need represents a problem because of warranty terms that would ban such an installation.

Trexee is also an excellent tool for checking servicing intervals and regular care for a vehicle through record keeping, as well as preventing theft and mistreatment of a vehicle.

What types of information do leasing companies record?

- Number of travelled kilometres (trip log)
- Travel method, with an overview of vehicle condition
- An overview of the number of km travelled abroad, and checking compliance with contractual terms in cooperation with the customer
- A complete overview of the history of vehicle servicing (vehicle "birth certificate")
 - Oil changes
 - Tyre replacement
 - State technical inspection
 - Setting up of all regular inspections, including reminders
